In specific markets, the firms receiving the most views were the managers of the products listed above, aside from Canada where Perceptive Life Sciences had the most views and in Japan where AQR broke the tie with Nuveen.

Rising interest at the product level - those which had the greatest absolute increase in the proportion of views they received of their alternative products from investors and consultants in the current month, versus the proportion of views they received in the prior 12 months as a whole - saw SEG Partners Fund win, hence the new entry in the main list. At the firm level, Magnetar Capital was the biggest riser, and finished fourth on the main list.
